Taku Collection

A new concept for In- and Outdoor use, that was developed by the danish designer Mads Odgard for the german outdoors specialist Fischer Möbel. The stacking chair is lightweight and shows a clear design. It is available in various colours of the proofed outdoor sling. New for the next season is the trendy orange colour sling

The Taku chair is suitable for in- and outdoor use. The stacking chair is a lightweight. It shows a clear design. The proofed outdoor sling guarantees a high comfort. A wide selection of various colours is offered. The solid frame is made out of stainless steel.

The Taku table is available in several dimensions. The solid frame is nearly hoving the table top. With ease the frame will bear table tops up to 222 cm. You can choose between a solid fm-ceramtop, the new scratch-resistant ceramic or the new weather-proofed fm-laminat special.

The Taku bistro tables are tiltable and into each other stackable. There you can choose between round and square tops that consists of the weather-proofed fm-laminat special.

A specialty is the new Taku sunbed. It's stackable like the armchair. The high lying comfort and the simply adaption mechanism of the heading section will make the sunbed to a coveted object in garden.
